ENDORSEMENT LETTER FOR ACCUAIR HEATING & COOLING

For several years now, Bob Stone and AccuAir Heating & Cooling have taken great care of my heating and cooling system. I have only 1 unit in my home, and it has always worked hard to make my 2-story home comfortable. A big part of getting that done without unnecessary repairs or replacement units has been Bob Stone and AccuAir Heating & Cooling. I subscribe to their 2 times per year maintenance plan, and they always remind me when it's time for an HVAC checkup. They come out and thoroughly check out the system, and they always replace the air filter with a clean new one as part of the service.

However, on June 10, the outside fan for my air conditioner blew up! Honestly – it tried to start up, and we heard a huge BANG and saw a flame and a lot of smoke! Apparently, the 14-year-old unit had died in a big way! It was a Sunday, and although that is not a usual workday for Bob, he took my telephone call and listened while I told him what had happened. Of course, nothing could be done that evening, but Bob gave me the suggestions to open the windows and put some fans to work, as the air conditioner had stopped blowing cool air about an hour before it tried to launch into outer space. Bob also contacted his office manager, who got us scheduled for someone to come out the next day and inspect the unit.

Long story short, the unit had to be replaced, and it took several days to get this scheduled and paid for. In the meantime, Bob came out and brought us a window unit for the upstairs bedroom and a 1-ton portable unit for the downstairs. With these machines, the house did cool down to around 74 degrees (outside temperatures were in the 90's!) while we waited for the new air conditioning unit to be installed. The new unit was installed by AccuAir, and now we are the COOLEST cats in the neighborhood, thanks to AccuAir Heating & Cooling!
