I wanted to take the time to share my experience of Max Middleton at Big House Construction.

Max is the ultimate professional and knows his trade inside and out. I began referring him to my real estate clients for roofing projects. Each time he went above and beyond to serve my clients and I always got rave reviews. So, I started to referring him for larger contracting projects as well.

Most recently, when my Buyers bought Kenny Roger's house in Sandy Springs, I referred him to them for a major Owner's bedroom, bath and closet remodel. My clients actually had four contractors bid on the project. Ultimately, they chose Max and his Team because he was the most responsive, quoted a fair price and was proactive in pursuing the opportunity.

My clients could not be happier with his work. Their second Owner's suite is stunning with a dome ceiling in the bedroom and a cathedral ceiling in the closet. The attention to detail these craftsmen have is breathtaking. Max's accessibility and client relations was beyond reproach. In essence, he reflects my business well and he is my one and only preferred vendor for my clients with roofing and contracting needs. Max is a star!
