To whom it may concern,

I am writing to highly recommend Ben Ragin with Haven Insurance Group for your personal insurance needs.

I'm a veteran and have been with USAA for as long as I've had my own insurance. They are an excellent company and I never thought I'd leave them, but it finally dawned on me that they were in essence order takers that will give you what you tell them you need. I was designing our insurance coverage, and I had no idea what I was doing. With a wife, three kids, two houses, and three cars; that what you call ignorant. Ben has been a friend for many years now, and has explained kindly the benefits of having a dedicated insurance agent to help you evaluate and adjust your coverage as your life changes, but I'm a little slow on the uptake.

Ben, being very patient, examined my current policies in depth. He then ran some models and walked me through my current policies and where I had gaps in coverage, as well as places we should probably spend more or less on based on our comfort levels. Every choice was well reasoned with pros and cons for going up or down, and we actually ended up still saving a good amount of money while increasing our coverage. Haven represents several insurance carriers, and Ben was able to select Travelers for us based on our profile as the best combination of price, quality, and coverage. We couldn't be happier, and now I feel better about the trampoline!

If you've never had your insurance evaluated by Ben Ragin to see how your current company is doing, you definitely should. He will be able to help you understand why you saved 15%, because it's not free. He'll also take more than 15 minutes to evaluate your current coverage and walk you through where you need more or less based on your life, not just what you were told was enough to hit a price point. Give him a call.

Regards,
