It has probably all happened to most or all at one time or the other which heard or smelled something in one's home causing heightened concern. I, very recently, experienced this exact uneasiness concerning my home. Because I was getting ready to go on a vacation, I didn't want to return home, finding an explosion due to a natural gas leak. My immediate action was easy. I called RJW Heating and Air Solutions to check out my concern.

Jermaine came over that very day and went immediately to work seeking out the issue. I trusted him to find the problem even though I did not quite understand the interesting testing equipment he used to search for the source of the leak. Oddly, there was a bit of a relief when all the lights lit up because my nose had not failed me. There was a leak, a small one that was quickly fixed.

Jermaine, I want to thank you for fixing the leak which was quite easy to do with the proper equipment. However, the major win was to have peace of mind while on vacation!

Best Regards,
