Re: Eleanor Thompson
ARTS Printing

I am writing to wholeheartedly endorse Eleanor Thompson of ARTS Printing. Recently, Eleanor printed a set of business cards for me, and the entire experience was smooth and professional from start to finish.

Before going to print, Eleanor provided insightful feedback on my initial design to address potential issues with printability. Thanks to her guidance, we collaborated with the graphic artist to make a few quick revisions, ensuring the final version would turn out perfectly. Throughout the process, Eleanor took the time to discuss different cardstock options—including whether the cards needed to be writable—and used my input to select the best stock for my needs.

When the cards were finally printed, they looked exactly like the proofs and were even more impressive in person. The quality was outstanding, the service was top-notch, and the prices were very reasonable. I couldn't be happier with the results.

I've attempted DIY business card printing in the past, and the quality was, admittedly, subpar. In my experience, it makes a huge difference to work with a professional when your brand and reputation are at stake. Eleanor's expertise, attention to detail, and commitment to customer satisfaction truly set ARTS Printing apart.

I highly recommend Eleanor Thompson and ARTS Printing for anyone looking for professional, high-quality printing services. You will not be disappointed.
