Dear Ellen,

I greatly enjoyed our meeting this week

It is abundantly clear that you are able to help business owners get out of their own way. Your approach is smart and efficient.

Marketing hasn't changed in 200 years. Humans are still human so they talk themselves out of awesome opportunities and use emotions to justify things that really don't make sense.

Your generosity with ideas for my own business surprised me. Having an outside perspective is invaluable and I sincerely appreciate the time you spent with me talking about your business and mine.
