Re: Endorsement Letter – Jacque Streever
Mary Kay Cosmetics

To Whom It May Concern:

There are two kinds of gift givers: the ones who instinctively know what to buy, and the rest of us who end up overthinking every decision. I fall into the second category—especially when it comes to choosing something meaningful for the people I love most.

That's why I turned to Jacque Streever. When I needed help putting together a Valentine's gift for my fiancée and, later, a Mother's Day gift for my mom, Jacque sat down with me over coffee and asked the right questions—about their personalities, favorite colors, the occasion, and even what products they already use. She offered creative suggestions, followed up with pictures, and communicated each step clearly so I felt confident in the selections.

The results were perfect. My fiancée and mom both loved their gifts, and I felt a huge sense of relief knowing I had chosen something thoughtful—without the usual stress. Jacque made the process simple, personal, and even enjoyable. Her creativity, empathy, and attention to detail shine through in everything she does.

I wholeheartedly endorse Jacque Streever for anyone seeking thoughtful, elevated gift solutions—or simply wanting to make someone's day more special.

Sincerely,
