By ROYAL DECREE OF THE PRINCE: Early Bird Pest Control

To Whom It May Concern,

In business, as we all know credibility is easily lost and hard fought to win. I was familiar with customer contracts; however not well versed. I wanted to identify how to make a successful customer contract which builds credibility with my customers not read as intimidating.

When I met Carl, I found him to be a wealth of knowledge through our conversations, not only with a "license to kill," but how he knows his customers! I reached out to Carl for examples of the customer contract and how to put myself in their shoes.

Through various examples, including ones Carl designed himself, I found my "customer contracts," would convey authenticity, easy to understand information, bring true value and create a win-win-win. Each of these traits (and many more) are how Early Bird has become the successful company it is today.

I highly recommend booking with Early Bird. His industry knowledge, quality of service, and relationship focused service helped me identify how I want to operate with my customers.

Kind regards,

Collin Bennett
