Robert Slocum
Northpoint Home Services

Robert,

Thank you so much for your work in making repairs to my client's home before we listed it.

I know it wasn't a big job for you, but the work was important in getting the house ready for photos and showings, and you took it on with the same professionalism that you always show when providing your services. I'm extremely grateful to you for making this happen.

Those items you did pulled the last few challenges together and made the property shine resulting in my clients getting the best price possible for their home.

Thank you for handling this work and for treating it with the care and craftsmanship that has become your hallmark.

Sincerely,
