

To Whom It May Concern,

It's hard to put into words just how special Jacque Streever is—but I'll try.

Jacque is one of those rare people who makes you feel seen the moment you're with her. She doesn't "sell." She connects. She listens. She gives.

Her Mary Kay consultations are nothing short of joyful. They're relaxed, fun, engaging, and completely pressure-free. When Jacque came over to share her products with my mom and me, we truly had no intention of buying a single thing. And honestly? She never once suggested that we should. She simply invited us to experience the products, learn about what worked for us, and enjoy the time together.

And that's where the magic happened.

By the end of the evening, we had spent over $700—not because we felt sold to, but because the products were exceptional. Truly second to none. The quality, the results, and the value compared to other lines are remarkable. Everything felt thoughtful. Purposeful. Worth it.

That's Jacque's gift. She creates an experience built on trust and care, and the results follow naturally.

Mary Kay could not ask for a better representative. Jacque embodies the brand with grace, authenticity, and heart. Anyone who has the chance to work with her—or simply spend time with her—is better for it.

With gratitude and admiration,
