To Whom It May Concern,

I had the pleasure of meeting Q, as he is affectionately known, through the Power Core networking group. During a group training, he quietly noticed that the speaker's arm was bleeding—something she herself hadn't yet realized. During a pause, he politely asked if he could step forward and handed her tissues so she could take care of it and continue teaching.

About five minutes later, without drawing attention to himself, Q again stepped forward and handed her a Band-Aid. The speaker paused the training a second time—not because she had to, but to point out Q's attentiveness, follow-through, and genuine care for others. That moment of quiet professionalism and attention to detail stayed with me, and it's what led me to ask him for a quote to paint my kitchen cabinets.

I am happy to recommend Quillian Woodall, who completed the cabinet painting work in my home a few months ago. From start to finish, the experience was smooth, professional, and exceeded my expectations. Q was reliable, communicative, and respectful of my home and time. He arrived as scheduled, clearly explained the process, and followed through on everything we discussed. The quality of his work was excellent—clean lines, careful preparation, and a finished result that truly refreshed the space.

Beyond the craftsmanship, I appreciated the care he brought to the entire project. The workspace was kept tidy, the timeline was honored, and any questions or small adjustments were handled thoughtfully and without hesitation.

I would absolutely hire Q again and confidently recommend him to anyone looking for a skilled, dependable painter who takes pride in both his work and how he shows up for people.

Sincerely,

Jeanne Ward
