To whom this may concern:

I highly recommend Jordan Guest Johnson, owner of Evergreen Events, for anyone looking to elevate their brand and event experience with intention and professionalism.

Jordan created my business cards, and the response has been incredible. Almost every time I hand one out, I receive compliments — which speaks directly to her eye for design and attention to detail. She doesn't just create materials, she creates pieces that leave a lasting impression.

Throughout the design process, Jordan was extremely patient and collaborative. She took the time to understand my vision, worked through revisions with care, and made sure every detail aligned with my brand.

I also had the opportunity to collaborate with her on a game night event, and she made the entire process seamless. From designing the flyer to setting up an online RSVP form for guests, everything was organized, professional, and easy to execute.

What sets Jordan apart is her ability to combine creativity with structure. She is personal, detail-oriented, and truly committed to making sure everything is done right.

If you're looking for someone who can bring your ideas to life while making the process smooth and stress-free, Jordan is the one to trust.

Best Regards
