

It is my pleasure to recommend Ashtyn McCarty and Eyeglasses by Ashtyn.

My wife and I recently met with Ashtyn at a local coffee shop to discuss our eyewear needs, and we were thoroughly impressed with the experience. From the beginning, it was clear that her primary focus was understanding our needs and helping us make informed decisions. She took time to listen carefully, ask thoughtful questions, and explain our options in a way that was easy to understand. Rather than feeling like a sales presentation, the conversation felt like meeting with a trusted advisor who genuinely wanted the best for us.

One of the things we appreciated most was Ashtyn's personalized approach. She considered our lifestyle, preferences, and budget before making recommendations, ensuring that the options she presented were practical and well suited to our needs. Her ability to simplify the selection process and provide clear guidance gave us confidence in our decisions.

Ashtyn has also created a unique and valuable service through her mobile eyewear business. By meeting clients at a location that is convenient for them, she makes the process comfortable, efficient, and accessible. In today's busy world, that level of flexibility is a tremendous benefit and reflects her commitment to serving others. What stood out even more was her integrity and genuine concern for us. She was patient, knowledgeable, and focused on helping us find quality eyewear solutions that provided value without unnecessary expense. It was evident that building relationships and caring for people are at the heart of her business.

In a marketplace where many interactions can feel rushed and impersonal, Ashtyn has built her business around trust, service, and personal attention. My wife and I left our meeting feeling informed, valued, and confident that we were in good hands. I would not hesitate to recommend Ashtyn McCarty and Eyeglasses by Ashtyn to friends, family, clients, or anyone looking for a knowledgeable and caring eyewear professional.

Sincerely, Ray & Laurie Evans

"People may forget what you said or did, but they will never forget how you made them feel." Ashtyn's commitment to caring for her clients exemplifies this principle every day."
