Dear Wendy,

I wanted to thank you for doing such a great job for me. You seem to intuitively figure out what I am looking for and I have been surprised by how quickly we have reached a finished product each time.

Whether creating my web site, my business cards, or the alternative logo for my new brand, the process has been easy. You were able to translate my ideas and take my feedback so that in each case the delivered product was something I could be proud of. Along the way, you always made sure that my questions and concerns were responded to, and I felt very confident in your professional guidance.

I am excited to continue working with you in the evolution of my brand and supporting materials and look forward to our next project together. It goes without saying that I would recommend you to any business owner who is interested in a collaborative, creative approach to building their marketing materials.

Warmly,

Meredith Sims
