Integrity Flooring

Dear Jason,

Recently your company performed an installation at our mountain home. Due to the circumstances, this was a rather stressful situation, and we needed a flooring contractor that could execute the installation in the middle of the holidays.

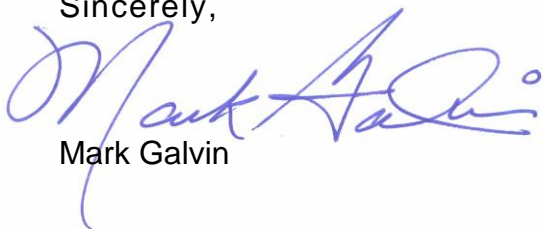

After consulting with you, I found you and your company to be more than an installation crew, but also a terrific guide. We needed someone that could handle the task and guide us on the right product. Ultimately, we needed someone who had integrity, honesty and knowledge.

You and your team exceeded our expectations. Through the whole experience, you were responsive, knowledgeable, and flexible. You completed the installation on time and within budget. The floor looks great!

Thank you for your professionalism and expertise.

I look forward to having Integrity Flooring install more floors in my home.

Sincerely,

Mark Galvin
