Dear Donna Chunglo,

I cannot thank you enough for everything you do. Your crystal clear transparency, systematic communication, and abundance of love for your clients are just a few of the traits that set you apart from anyone in the roofing industry. No matter how big or small a project is, you give each client the time and care they deserve while finding the absolute best solution for every roof.

Far too often, misleading roofers persuade homeowners to file claims on their insurance policy with the false hope that their roof has hail/storm damage. With you Donna, I never have to worry about false promises or misguided advice. You will always advise your clients to do what's in their best interest and treat every roof like it is the one going over your family's head.

If a roof is in great condition, Donna documents this and saves the pictures and report showing any and all damage. That way when she revisits the same roof in 5 years and sees 47 new areas of hail damage, she has everything she needs to go to the insurance carrier to get a new roof approved.

Again Donna, thank you immensely for all the hard work and diligence you have devoted helping my friends and clients. We are forever indebted to you!

Thankfully,
