Christmas Parties are times are often a mix of family, friends and colleagues who may not see each other often in a party setting

Finding a way to keep everyone engage and comfortable can be a task. While working alongside The Rolling Pour LLC, during a private event I got to experience and witness how having a professional in charge of serving is a total game changer for your next party.

As guest arrived at the beautiful home Stephanie and her Staff was there to greet guest with a smiling face and usher them to the bar and serving area. By having the flexibility and knowledge to make any drink you can get a local pub they provide class and service that made guest everyone feel taken care of.

This allowed the host to entertain guest and spend time singing Christmas Carols with friends without having to clean up empty cups or be pulled away to serve. Appropriately she announced last call for those to finishing serving with adequate time for mingling as guest slowly ended the night.

I recommend the Rolling Pour, LLC for individuals looking to have an event in which they can too enjoy versus feeling like they are over work. Let Rolling Pour Roll out the Red Carpet for your guest.

Excellent Service !

Best Regards,

Bryan Byrd
