To Whom It May Concern:

If you are looking to grow your business, I highly recommend Jeff Bartholomew of Everest Business Coaching!

Jeff has been my business coach for almost three years and I am so impressed with his professionalism and positive attitude. I have worked with him both individually and in his 3-month training program. As someone who is new to being a business owner after 15 years in the Corporate world, his knowledge has been crucial to the growth of my business! As any entrepreneur can attest, while you are excited about following your dream, you don't know all of the things that you don't know about running a business. With Jeff's training, I have learned how to work "on" my business instead of just working "in" my business.

Jeff is very active in our community and knows many business owners and entrepreneurs. He always seems to know the right time to make introductions and connections to help all of our networks grow!

I thoroughly enjoy working with Jeff, and in addition to all that I have learned from him, and all that he has done to grow my business, I also consider him a friend and just a very good person.

I strongly recommend Jeff Bartholomew and Everest Business Coaching!

Sincerely,
