Dear Philip,

Thank you for being a wonderful resource for people and families in turmoil. Your kind, calm demeanor hides the fact that you're as tough as any attorney when you're fighting for your clients. Whether the issue is divorce, paternity or crazy ex-girlfriends, you not only provide great legal service, you provide amazing value.

You went over and above the call of duty when you assisted someone I know (see crazy ex-girlfriend reference above.) With a phone conversation, you answered a lot of his questions and helped him understand many aspects of his situation that he would never have thought of on his own. But more than that, you made him feel like someone was on his side. He came away from his conversation with you feeling like there was hope, and for that I thank you.

It's a pleasure to see you every Thursday morning on our team, and an honor to be able to recommend you to those I know in need of a great family law attorney.

Sincerely,
