To Whom it May Concern:

Before I became an artist full time, I was an insurance agent. I wrote and quoted my insurance for my own personal lines. Back then, and over time, I have made many insurance connections—people that I trusted, agents that impressed me with their extensive knowledge, and those with decades of experience. Not one of these agents were able to provide me a better policy.

That is, not until a few weeks ago, when Ryan Tingle, Vice-President at Tabb Insurance Agency, quoted my insurance for me. Ryan was easily available, answered my questions, he handled my quotes himself, and then he shared with me why he recommends the company that he chose. He found an excellent rate and coverage. He also thoroughly explained everything I'd need to know for a new intelligent driving phone application, so that I could receive an even better rate in the future. Ryan treated me like a first-class customer. I've never had a better insurance experience in my life, and I have had plenty of insurance experience. I will most definitely recommend Ryan to my closest friends and family.

Thank you Ryan.

Sincerely,

Amanda Hamilton
