

findyourmoneypath.com

Andrew,

As someone who is, let's say, challenged in the handyman department I'm glad to have someone that I know I can call when I need some things done around our condo. When we moved into our place a couple years ago, we knew it was an older condo, but we overlooked some of the small things like doors that would tilt towards one side or the other. After living with that for a couple of years we were annoyed by it.

Thanks for coming in and adjusting 3-4 doors at the hinge so that they no longer lean towards one side of the house. We've got a lot less scuff marks on walls because closet and bedroom doors aren't flying towards the walls anymore.

I tried to fix these on my own, but quickly realized that I just was tightening one screw after the other and had no clue what I really was doing. YouTube videos didn't even help!

Appreciate all of your help!

Stephen Newland

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Stephen Newland', with a long horizontal flourish extending to the right.