"War is the Tao of deception" Sun Tzu

Dealing with most investment people seems to be war. I mean, you have to be on guard all the time, you have to watch your back! You can't tell if the advice is real or a ploy to seize more commissions. Why not just make your own investment choices, when you actually are the only one on your own side?

Dealing with Tommy Thompson is truly a partnership, for Tommy is very intelligent and see's the benefit of a partnership, not waging war. For this is the real way to succeed and prosper in America

He obviously sees the long term consequences involved in honest dealings and giving real advice. The high commissions will come from the many referrals this kind of business model produces.

He has helped make one more aggravatingly necessary act, in fact a real enjoyable one! Making my life better on so many levels. I prefer to let people I trust handle things I dislike. Tommy loves his work and I look forward to watching him flourish at lightning speed!
