As parents, when your first child gets married you want the wedding celebration to be special and the memories lasting. That was the case for my wife Donna and I when our daughter Madison was married this past March to our now son-in-law Cameron. When the celebrating was complete, Donna and I wanted to give the newlyweds a gift that would have special, long-lasting meaning and we could think of no better way than to commission a painting by Amanda Hamilton, of Amanda Hamilton Fine Art.

Using a photograph of our daughter holding her wedding bouquet, Amanda created a 36x30 inch stunning oil painting that perfectly captured the beautiful memories of that special day. Amanda consulted with me and sent me updates of her progress throughout the process of creating the painting, from her early sketches to the finished product. Throughout, Amanda showed the passion she has not only for her artwork, but for the subject matter of the painting and the meaning behind the painting. When it was finished, Amanda personally delivered the painting fully and tastefully framed, and it is beautiful.

It goes without saying that I endorse without hesitation Amanda Hamilton of Amanda Hamilton Fine Art. Amanda is an extremely talented artist that creates beautiful paintings on time and on budget. Her talent and enthusiasm shine through in her art, as does her understanding of the significance the painting will have to its new owner.

The painting of Madison and her bouquet now beautifully hangs in Madison and Cameron's house as a unique and ongoing reminder of their wedding. If you want to create lasting memories for someone you love, I recommend a painting by Amanda Hamilton.

Sincerely,
