Dear Danny Nungesser,

I am not the ideal client for a financial advisor. Besides not having millions of dollars tucked away in a growing portfolio—all ready for someone to manage-- I am constantly on the move and my income fluctuates with the season and with the housing market in general. And yet, you helped me.

Thank you for never making me feel like my financial plan was unworthy of your attention. You constantly went above and beyond to gather the important information, to work with my accountant to make sure the tax implications were always considered, and to educate me about my options.

Over the past years that I have known you, I have recommended you to many of my clients from all walks of life, for your expertise, but also for your exceptional service and willingness to go the extra mile. Your knowledge, compassion and professionalism has helped my clients and I can say—from personal experience—that you deserve the trust that we put in you. THANK YOU!

Warm regards,
