Mike Tumminello DC is a different breed of Chiropractor. I have been to several chiropractors over my life, but none can compare to him

When I broke my shoulder I asked my regular Chiropractor what to do. She said that she cannot do anything until after therapy and the Orthopedist has released me.

Dr. Tumminello is on my PowerCore team. He is a neurological chiropractor and he said "Come". He checked the shoulder and sent me to the ER. At ER they took X-rays of the wrong part and sent me home with a sling. Later in the year Dr. Tumminello asked me and then he said to call a doctor for another appointment. They found out that it was broken and sent me to Physical Therapy. Dr. Mike told me to come in and check every now and then. I did and the Physical Therapy department was amazed about the progress.

Do not give up!

Find someone like Dr. Tumminello who will be interested and take care of you one way or another.
