John:

I would like to offer my sincere appreciation for your firm's assistance in helping my client with legal counseling for their small business.

In the age of e-mail and text messaging, my client personally called me to tell me what an excellent job your associate Chris Brown was doing in handling the legal affairs for their business. Chris not only gave excellent advice that was detailed and specific to their business, but also provided careful explanation to ensure all parties understood the complexity of every legal matter.

I know my clients will be in business for many years; therefore I am hopeful this will be a lasting and profitable relationship. Again, thanks to you and Chris for your courtesy and professionalism with my client.

Sincerely,

Cindy Merriweather
