I am pleased to recommend Vance Blew as a mortgage lender. Vance led me through a seamless process when I purchased my house this May. He was extremely professional and knowledgeable about the lending and underwriting process. Vance went above and beyond and I appreciated the instructional videos and supportive resources he sent. The secured platform (Turnkey) that he used to collect the numerous documents was exceptional and notified me via email if they were waiting on a document from me. I loved that we were able to do everything over the phone and through the Turnkey portal because we were in the middle of the coronavirus pandemic and wanted to limit contact with people. Vance was also incredibly responsive and took my calls and emails at all times of the day/night. He helped us secure the best interest rate and I enjoyed the first-time homebuyers course that he recommended, as it provided an additional discount. To anyone looking to purchase a home, I would gladly recommend Vance without hesitation.

Sincerely,
