Kimberly Jackson is a pretty great gal. She's a cool, upbeat and friendly person to sit next to at PowerCore meetings and is a total ace at her job as closing attorney. Kim provides an incredible service in an industry lacking in service.

Prior to closing she ensures the buyer, seller, realtors and loan officers are aware of and fully comprehend all of the taxes, fees, insurance costs, etc due at closing, she performs title and lien searches to ensure no snags at closing; and she chips away at this tedium with her typical positive attitude remaining intact. Her ability to inject personality and kindness into her interactions with all parties involved, really make her closings special.

Once everyone gathers at the closing table in the attractive and pleasant Mozley Finlayson & Loggins law office, there are no surprises. Once again, Kim injects her positivity and personable spirit into the closing experience which really makes for a memorable, hassle-free transaction.

As if that weren't enough, Kim even provides service after closing! This is what makes her a truly rare bird. Should the buyer or seller remain confused about any tax, deed or other details, Kim patiently reviews this information with her client to ensure a full understanding is realized.

Kim recognizes that closing on a home is a major milestone in her clients' lives and treats it as such but also manages to reduce the stress while ratcheting up the enjoyableness of the experience. It's a tough balancing act but one Kim performs with grace and agility.
