Dear Maiya,

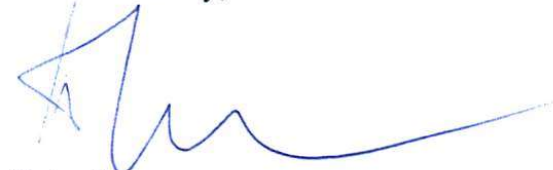

I realize your business is one of a very personal nature and many people would not want to openly acknowledge the work you have done for them. That's exactly why I want to thank you for taking such good care of handling my divorce, which can't get much more personal than that.

I have known you for several years, and always assumed you were very good at your job and referred you whenever I had the opportunity. Until recently I never had the occasion to work with you in this business capacity.

I want to thank you for having treated me with complete professional care. I know there were a couple issues you didn't necessarily agree with me on, of which I knew you were correct. You gave me the respectful opportunity to reconsider, without passing any judgment. You expeditiously moved forward with my case and set realistic expectations for me as to how things would proceed. You were spot on with timeframes, and you got involved in attorney conversations standing ground on our position.

Although I hope I don't have any friends to also need your professional services (!), I would highly recommend you, in a heartbeat.

Thank you again
Most Sincerely,
