Dear Taylor:

It has been my pleasure to learn about you and your company, Up Up and Away. And now, an even greater pleasure to have first hand experience with you, your company and staff.

It has always been a practice of my husband, Fred, and I to support small local business. Recently, the opportunity presented itself to do just that. I needed a service such as yours and you were the first one that I thought of.

My contact with you was pleasant, professional and to the point. All my questions were answered, the price was fair and competitive and your availability was immediate.

Your staff, Josh and JP, were prompt, professional, and very accommodating. Your service was complete and within the time established at initial contact.

I am extremely grateful for you, your staff and company and would not hesitate to recommend you and your service to anyone I come in contact with who may need a service such as yours.

In Sincere Appreciation,

Jacque Streever
