

November 2, 2020

To Whom it May Concern,

While juggling a family and a career, it is difficult to achieve some tasks for our businesses. We decided to reach out to Cathy Logan, bookkeeper extraordinaire, to help us catch upon paperwork that we needed to get done so we could send it to our CPA to file our three businesses for our 2019 tax returns.

She patiently explained to me how to create accounts and helped me log in expenses and information for over three hours. It is obvious that she has a background in teaching because she is so patient and thorough in explaining how QuickBooks works and how to run the reports.

In the long run, she saved us so much time and peace of mind. We are certain that our CPA is also grateful, and it took him less time to prepare our filings. We would recommend Cathy to our friends and associates who want to spend more time relaxing than digging through receipts and getting them entered after a long day of work.

Sincerely,

Valerie & Sandro Brutti
Valerie and Alessandro Brutti