

Lynn Spencer
Partner
Killingsworth Spencer LLC
10892 Crabapple Rd
Roswell, GA 30075

Dear Lynn,

You are remarkable as a person and a business owner. Over the last year and a half, I have needed guidance setting up my company and taxes. Much of this was new to me, I needed someone I could trust. You always made time, especially when I was stressed to get things executed in QuickBooks sharing every question was a good question. With you by my side every step of the way you provided me with peace of mind.

You framed your business around this statement: "Helping clients understand the choices that matter". You live and practice this every day. This approach combined with putting clients first has created a great working relationship. You protect what you stand for by hiring qualified and genuine employees that follow your example. When I call, especially during tax season, the phone is answered, and my questions or issues are quickly resolved. Everyone ebbs and flows, but Lynn stays constant. Her focus, dedication and experience are a great asset to Killingsworth Spencer. While working with Lynn we were reminiscing and laughing about the Staples "that was easy" button. But it's no joke, Lynn makes things easy using her resourcefulness and calmness to unravel accounting issues.

With Lynn at the helm of Killingsworth Spencer, she ensures things are done correctly. If you need a CPA, bookkeeping, business advise, or have IRS issues, call Lynn. She and her team, especially the QuickBooks certified Pro Advisors take the mystery out of business finances. Working with her, I no longer worry about accounting. Reach out today and build your relationship with Lynn and Killingsworth Spencer.

Sincerely,

Sarah-Anne Wildgoose
Owner
SAW Design Studio