Dear Deana,

The founder of JC Penney said, “Courteous treatment will make a customer a walking advertisement.” You exemplify what courteous service is all about and I am proud to tell anyone, “if you have a printing project need, I know the printer for you!”

As you know, in addition to my business I am also blessed to pastor a church in Holly Springs. When I have needed print projects done in either capacity I have not hesitated to turn to you and KMH Graphics. The reason is simple; you consistently communicate about the projects from beginning to its completion, and they have always turned out great and on schedule. Not only that you have gone the extra mile to ensure I had those items in hand, even if it meant delivering in a torrential rain storm on a late Friday afternoon. What printer is willing to do that? My printer!

For this reason, I wanted to take the opportunity to express my gratitude and say, “thank you” for providing exceptional and professional service. I look forward to sending more projects your way and wholeheartedly referring you to future business clients and ministries!

Sincerely,

J.B. Kitts
