To Holders of Flimsy Business Cards,

I have had business cards for my current position for over 6 years, but almost a year ago Deana started printing my cards and it's all changed!

At networking events people would take one and pass me theirs, filing it quickly in their pocket. Deana took the time to show me the different paper weights & finishes and helped me pick the best option for the card design I already had.

Now, with Deana's cards, people hold it; give it a little flex and say, "This is a nice card."

Deana has since printed other products for me and I have been very pleased with her prompt responses and quality work.

With business cards being the currency of networking, per Wendy Kinney, Deana has me feeling like I'm carrying around Benjamins every time I fill up my card wallet.

Boldly,
