To whom it may concern:

Scott Orr is exactly who you should contact for any life insurance needs you may have. Scott has now helped my husband and I establish policies and he has helped my mom as well. He is very patient and never pressured us to make any decisions. Scott takes the time to learn what is important to his clients. He took into account what we wanted to cover in the event something were to happen and also went through the big and little things that could come up so that we could ensure we had all our bases covered. He gave us options to choose from so that we could make the best decision for our family. Scott was there whenever we had any questions and was a great resource for us. Scott ensured to keep us up to date along the way and held us accountable to complete what we needed to on our end. I can now rest a little better at night knowing we have the right protection in place. I highly recommend Scott and am so thankful for the help and peace of mind he provided my family.

Thank you again Scott for the help!

Sincerely,
