

Dear Perfectionists and Busy Homeowners,

If you're looking for a handyman who is trustworthy, has integrity, and charges a fair price for quality work, you have found the perfect candidate in Shawn Livingston, founder of Total Home Repair Services.

Prior to hiring Shawn, I had numerous issues with finding a handyman. Many did not return phone calls within 24 hours. One even had me pay for a project upfront then never completed the work, taking both money and supplies.

When I met Shawn at PowerCore, I hired him for maintenance issues at my home. After his first visit, my husband and I were both pleased with the results and quality of craftsmanship. From there, we continued calling Shawn for various projects. Five years, three houses, and two business locations later Shawn is still, without hesitation, our go-to handyman.

This is because Shawn takes the stress out of both residential and commercial maintenance through excellent customer service, clearly communicating problems and solutions, and completing projects within the deadline he determines. Shawn is hands-on so that his clients don't have to be.

Shawn's work has given me peace of mind, pride in my properties, and most importantly, more time with my family. I could never recommend or thank you enough, Shawn!

Sincerely,

Kriston Sellier
