To anyone considering buying or selling real estate, I personally recommend The Cowan Connection.

This elite group of realtors is headed by Tim Cowan. I contacted Tim about three years ago (on a holiday) letting him know I was in the market to purchase a home. Within the hour, a member of his team met with my family to discuss our needs and expectations at a home we wanted to tour.

Well you won't believe it, but we've been in our home for three years; and Tim continues to go above and beyond for my family. He made sure we got our homestead exemption filed, he tracks trends in our neighborhood/community that affect our property value, and he still is open and willing to answer any questions I may have concerning a buying/selling real estate. I mean let's be honest, most of us have come across (or heard about) a realtor who disappears before the proverbial ink is dry on the commission check; not Tim, we know we were not just a "one time" sell for him.

From beginning to end, Tim's team ensured we had a great experience. They made great recommendations and each knowledgeable in their fields of expertise; providing us the tools we needed to make a competent housing purchase. I love the processes Tim has in place whether you are buying or selling a home, although it's structured well, he leaves room to tailor each experience to the individual(s) he is currently servicing. His dedication and level of customer service are unmatched, so try The Cowan Connection, I bet they will make you feel right at home...

Sincerely,
