To the reader of this letter,

If you are reading this letter, you may be considering working with Chris Berney of The Berney Law Firm. As a small business owner that wears many hats, business law is not one that I attempt to wear. When faced with a situation that I was not comfortable handling myself, I knew Chris was the person to consult.

Over the past few years, I have gotten to know Chris and his firm. He has shown that he is professional, responsive, and honest. I contacted his office for guidance on a small matter, which like many people dealing with any legal matter, it did not feel small to me.

Chris immediately addressed my concerns and together we planned the next steps. He did not only assist me with the matter; he also helped implement processes to help improve my growing company. This alone adds value to my business.

I am grateful to have the legal hat filled by someone that is invested in his clients and their company as if it were his own.

With Great Gratitude,

Janine Walker
