Last summer, my family and I added a new family member, our sweet Golden Retriever, Marshall. It was not our first furry addition, but the first in about twenty years. When Marshall reached his first birthday, we knew he needed some manners. Although a fun and loving pup, not everyone appreciated being greeted at the door with big hugs from him. We sought out help from Nick.

On the first day of training, Marshall immediately was drawn to Nick. Nick has a warm nature that our dog responded to quickly. After our first session was over, we saw immediate improvement in Marshall's behavior. Over the course of 4 sessions, our pup learned new commands, leash training, how to greet guests, and how to respond to the doorbell. Marshall's etiquette would now be Emily Post approved.

Nick is a natural with dogs. He understands canine behavior, as well as, humans. He was able to teach us how to better respond to Marshall to improve his overall behavior. Nick has a knowledgeable, positive approach to training your furry friend while not changing your pet's personality. I highly recommend Nick for anyone seeking obedience training for their dog.

Sincerely,

Michelle McAllister RN
