Good morning Jessica,

Hi,

Our first meeting, when you explained your business, you were clear: you clean as a service to women.

You always look so happy, greeting me with a smile, every time we're at the same meeting.

Then two things happened the same week:

404-816-3377

Valerie Brutti raved about you – just raved – she said you were the best, most fabulous, exceptional cleaning service. She told how you spent two days at her house and it's never been so clean.

First you came to my house, for two days. Ah. <insert smile of satisfaction> Now once a month you arrive to restore the sparkle. Ah. And, each time I walk in the door after your visit, the words come to me in a whisper, as a prayer, "Thank you Jessica."

With gratitude,

That caught my attention. Two days of cleaning. Only my mother-in-law ever got my house that clean.

Later, I heard your InfoMinute. The Kindling Question was: "ask her, if she had more time, what would she like to do more with her family?"
