Dear Greg,

A couple of months ago, I referred a client to you, RA. His wife decided she wanted a divorce. She announced, they could work together through the divorce proceedings; however, RA had this “gut feeling; “she was “going to take him to the cleaners” and not see his son. It was a complicated situation since he was the parent who typically stayed home while his wife worked. In addition, she took care of the finances, and he had no idea where they were financially,

When I listened to your Info Minutes, I learned about your incredible passion for individuals and families going through divorce; hence, you were the perfect referral for my client. Once you got involved, you would educate RA about what to expect and helped him through some difficult circumstances, RA is incredibly grateful for what you have done—especially getting 50% custody of his son.

You make the world a better place and I thank you. In dealing with my other clients’ divorces, I know you are an excellent attorney. My endorsement for a family attorney will be Greg Golden.

Respectfully yours,
