In the high-tech world in which we live, there is always a great demand for people who can handle that one problem that just cannot be solved. Recently I received such a call while I was on vacation from a friend. He had a business computer problem that just needed solved by a professional. I referred him to Jonathan Wells with Affinity Technology.

Upon arriving home I was surprised by a lengthy email thanking me for recommending Jonathan and the excellent service he provided. Selfishly, isn't that what we all want to hear? In this world where technology is moving so fast, we want our problems fixed by someone who knows what they are doing.

Because Jonathan treated this referral with such expertise and care, I will be recommending him to everyone with computer and IT problems. I know that he will continue to make me look good with such a recommendation.

Best Regards,
