Dear David,

Buying your first home can be an exciting, yet nerve racking experience. But you already know this with your years of experience. It's that very expertise that kept my wife Leslie and I at ease when we worried if an offer would be accepted. You helped us figure out what kind of house we really wanted, and what neighborhood really mattered to us. You were genuinely excited when we secured the house that Leslie and I never thought we could have. When we ran into a few problems after the documents were signed and the deal was done you happily helped us find the solutions we needed at a cost of $0.00. You're always my recommendation for a realtor, because I know the exceptional service we received is how you treat all of your clients. David, thank you for going above and beyond to help us find the home we love in the community we adore.

Sincerely,
