Dear Linda,

What a difference a year makes! Roughly one year ago, in a meeting with Linda, I was told about PowerCore, and the rest is history! I met Linda through another professional organization that I am affiliated with, and I was having lunch with her to better understand her business, as well as to seek advice on how she grew her business. Her response was one word – PowerCore. She then took a few minutes to explain the PowerCore format to me, and refer me to the website.

In addition to being responsible for referring me to PowerCore, Linda has provided me the most referrals since joining the team. She always takes the time to ensure that her contacts are good referrals before making the handoff. Because her clients trust her, they trust her referrals. They come to me ready to move forward, and they are compliant with my directions. Working with Linda already, they know the requirements for maintaining a professional business relationship, and see the benefits it can provide. My communication with you is always fun, enlightening, and engaging. You do not hesitate to ask my opinion, and I definitely want yours! Win, win relationship!

I look forward to a continued working relationship, and I will continue to look for opportunities to refer clients to you.

Sincerely,

Ramona Baptiste, CPA
